

Bat Conservation Trust

Who we are...

The Bat Conservation Trust (BCT) is the only UK organisation solely devoted to saving bats and their habitat

UK bats...

Bats are an important part of our natural heritage and are indicators of a healthy environment

The 18 species of bat in the UK have suffered serious declines in recent years

Becoming a corporate member is an ideal way of demonstrating your company's commitment to conserving and protecting our natural environment

Your contribution will help protect the UK's diverse range of wildlife and habitats and ensure bats thrive into the future

Bat Conservation Trust

Our corporate members...

" I can thoroughly recommend being a corporate member of BCT as it gives me a chance as a professional ecologist to give something back to bat conservation and to support BCT with their amazing work and ongoing research on bats"

Andrew Waller - Principal Consultant with ASW Ecology

" ...we care deeply about the UK and its wildlife. That's why we work with BCT to help protect the nation's bats and their natural habitats. We're proud to be part of their conservation efforts, and are delighted that our support will help to conserve these enigmatic creatures for generations to come"

Leanne Dempsey - Sykes cottages
